I am a visual artist, illustrator and master retoucher. I create art for advertising agencies, design studios, photographers, fine artists and movie studios worldwide. I have worked alongside some of the industry's most successful creative directors and artists, gaining a wealth of experience and developing my own unique style along the way. I have Bachelor of Arts in Design Communication, which has given me a solid background in traditional art, photography and printing processes. My approach to every brief is results driven, exploring creative visual solutions, and always striving to deliver the best possible results for my clients.
